Hello All

Ah June the start of Summer.
It almost makes you burst into song

*"But it's comin' by dawn,
We can feel it come,
You can feel it in your heart
You can see it in the ground
You can see it in the trees
You can smell it in the breeze
Look around! Look around!
Look around!
June is bustin' out all over*

All over the meadow and the hill!

Buds're bustin' outa bushes

And the rompin' river pushes

Ev'ry little wheel that wheels beside the mill!"

Well that's enough of that, June is also the most popular month for marriages, and to this we must pass all best wishes to Steve and Kim as they tie the knot this month.

Lets hope the weather is better for the my evening ride-out on Wednesday 10th (Destination Alton and Loomies.) I really think Milly should be called a "rain-king" especially after our recent attempt at a seaside run

Prior to that we have the Norsemens Poker run, a cracking day riding round Sussex and Kent.

Thanks for recent reports keep them coming

Happy riding
Ian

Centre Rep speaks

All,

The season is well and truly upon us.

So why was it so quiet Thursday 7th at the Jolly Farmers, thanks to those of you who did turn up.

Answers on a postcard please.

Our rally at Esher.

To clarify the subject members of C14 attending the rally will be expected to buy tickets as usual. If you wish to volunteer for duties during the rally please write a big "V" on your application for tickets or let Ian Murfitt know when you request them.

After the event those deemed to have pulled their weight will, if funds permit, have their ticket money refunded. I do expect all members of C14 to assist in running this event.

Meeting Venue

Having had two meetings at the Jolly Farmer I have been asked if this is a permanent move. No it is not. It was just for a change.

Our next meeting will take place as usual at the Well house from 7pm onwards. If anyone knows of any other venues suitable for either our Wednesday or Thursday meets then let us know and we may visit. If there is enough expressed interest in moving our regular meeting place or having two different venues then we can discuss it accordingly.

Paignton

Hi the north Devon branch of the Rejects left on a sunny Saturday morning for the Paignton bike festival. we took the picturesque route Dawn was pleased her bike was running ok after David's tinkering. we parked up and looked around the show, lots of stands selling biker stuff [helmets, boots ,leathers etc. etc ] we found ourselves a couple of new bikes [very nice] unfortunately out of our price range and not Yamaha's. We popped into the pirates [c18] tent to say hello. There was a visit from the air ambulance to collect a cheque from BMAD [bikers make a difference]. We sat with couple of beers listening to the bands soaking up the sun. Another lap or two of the show then off to our b&b after a great day by the sea. Sunday the sun still shining full English eaten it was off home along the coast road.

Love Story

I will seek and find you . . .

I shall take you to bed and have my way with you

I will make you ache, shake & sweat until you moan & groan.

I will make you beg for mercy, beg for me to stop.

I will exhaust you to the point that you will be relieved when I'm finished with you.

And, when I am finished, you will be weak for days.

All my love,
The Flu

Now, get your mind out of the gutter and go get your flu shot!

The Singapore way
A fire alarm rang at 4 PM when almost all shift employees are in office (approx 5000). As usual entire office was evacuated within 3 mins & every employee gathered outside office. 10 mins passed .....5 more mins passed passed .....
Then a Security Officer started an announcement: "Dear Employees - With melting heart I am making this announcement that for many of you it will be a last evacuation drill. Due to the recession we are laying off almost 50% of employees. While moving in if your ID card does not work, then you are among those laid off & all your belongings will be couriered to you tomorrow. We have followed this approach as we didn't want to fill email box with layoff mails and good bye mails in thousands & also to avoid any fight inside office.
Hope you have nice career ahead. Please move in & try your luck".

Medusa's "Show us your ride" May 9th

It seems at the moment I am doing a lot of travelling to Kent for events, which has made me wonder about quaint English traditions like how do you know if you are a man of Kent or a Kentish Man? A description which has always confused, and it's all to do with the River Medway and on which side you stand, it seems that a Man of Kent comes from the area to the east of the River Medway and a Kentish Man comes from the west of the river. But as I live in Surrey neither of these apply though I do drink gallons of Kentish ale, and have no idea where the river Medway is. Also today I was off to see various Maidens from Kent or is that Kentish Maids?

The Medusas are a female motorcycle club, who always give the friendliest of welcomes (even towards the end of the day they would not stop smiling), and this was their first solo running of this event.

Medusa is not a million miles away from Medway in my boy's book of facts, so for those which may not know, Medusa was a Gorgon, a protectress and guardian in Greek mythology who for anyone gazing upon her would be turned to stone. And she was eventually beheaded by Perseus. This image of her head is now used as a symbol for protection in many societies. Though I am not sure if the image was chosen due the protection value or the connotations with a certain fashion chain, though whether any club members wear designer clothing I did not ask.

I do not think that Medusa was ever matched with any of the weather gods, but once again the show was blessed with sunshine, and soon the larger than last year but still as dusty car park was overflowing and bikes were parked all along the road and any vacant space was taken by two or three wheel transport.

With the pub at the top end of the suite, with a large bank to relax on while listening to the band (who did a great job, despite being a relatively new band)

The show was strongly supported by many local, and not so local clubs, and best turn out went to The Renegades, who were all presented in a Jim'll fix it (showing my age here) style with medallions.

At the end of the show all the winning bikes came to the top of the site for the presentations which was easier than looking around a packed car park for rosettes. The monster trikes owned by the SLUTS (South London Uncommitted Trikers) which won some prizes though had to stay where they were parked as I think with the car park as full as it was nudging one bike would have created a huge domino effect of twisted metal. There are plans already afoot for a new venue for 2010.

This was my second visit to this event, and it is already one I am looking forward too next year, I do hope a new venue (which sadly it does need due to parking issues) does not lose some of its special charm do look out for it in Early May next year.

Presentations over it was back to my faithfull steed, and with Pegasus like speed (Pegasus was born from Medusa when her head was removed) I headed towards Essex (yes I know I live in surrey, but it seemed a good idea)

Ian
